Hostile Environment Security Awareness

COURSE OVERVIEW
This course is aimed at providing delegate with the knowledge and skills of surviving critical situations, and to take care of their own safety in high-risk areas. It also provides delegates with knowledge and skills to lower potential risks and cope with threats, injuries, hostage taking, terrorist attacks as well as armed conflicts.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?
This course is suitable for humanitarian aid workers, human right defenders, freelance journalist and others who have been deployed to hostile environment and remote areas as well as anyone who seeks to have an in-depth understanding of hostile environment security awareness.

COURSE OUTCOMES
Delegates will gain the knowledge and skills to:
- Identify significant threat to personal safety.
- Develop personal security and awareness technologies to mitigate risks.
- Provide life-saving and immediate medical care in hostile and challenging environment.
- Effectively plan and prepare assignments in potentially hostile and remote environment.
- Understand the need to analyze situation ahead of time.
- Understand and utilize field communication equipment.

KEY COURSE HIGHLIGHTS
At the end of the course, you will understand;
- Personal safety and situational awareness.
- Threat recognition and risk assessment.
- Secure travel and movement planning.
- Kidnap avoidance and survival tactics.
- Emergency first aid and trauma response.
- Navigation and communication in hostile areas.
- Cultural awareness and de-escalation.
- Crisis response and evacuation drills.
- Operating in conflict and high-risk zones.
- Practical simulations and field exercises.

All our courses are dual-certificate courses. At the end of the training, the delegates will receive two certificates.
1. A GTC end-of-course certificate
2. Continuing Professional Development (CPD) Certificate of completion with earned credits awarded