ISO 45001 Lead Auditor – Occupational Health and Safety Management System

COURSE OVERVIEW

ISO 45001 is the first global standard for occupational health and safety management, replacing OHSAS 18001. The PECB ISO 45001 Lead Auditor course builds skills to audit OH&S management systems using recognized principles and methods. Participants learn to plan, conduct, and report audits in line with ISO 19011 and ISO/IEC 17021-1. Through practical exercises, they gain experience in auditing ISO 45001 requirements, leading teams, collecting evidence, and reporting findings. Completing the course and exam allows participants to apply for the "PECB Certified ISO 45001 Lead Auditor" credential, proving their competence in OH&S auditing.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This course is ideal for auditors aiming to perform and lead OH&S MS certification audits, managers or consultants looking to deepen their understanding of the ISO 45001 audit process, internal auditors and personnel responsible for maintaining compliance with ISO 45001 requirements, technical experts preparing for OH&S MS audits, and expert advisors specializing in occupational health and safety management.

COURSE OUTCOMES

Delegates will gain the skills and knowledge to:

- Explain the fundamental concepts and principles of an occupational health and safety management system (OH&S MS) based on ISO 45001
- Interpret the ISO 45001 requirements for an OH&S MS from the perspective of an auditor
- Evaluate the OH&S MS conformity to ISO 45001 requirements, in accordance with the fundamental audit concepts and principles
- Plan, conduct, and close an ISO 45001 compliance audit, in accordance with ISO/IEC 17021-1 requirements, ISO 19011 guidelines, and other best practices of auditing
- Manage an ISO 45001 audit program

KEY COURSE HIGHLIGHTS

At the end of the course, you will understand how to;
